SOLUTION TO GAME

With white to move first, facing a threatened mate, White goes for the Jugular with 1) e8/Knight +, Kx7 2) d8/Knight + Ka7 3) b4xc6+ 4) Nxc6+ mate. In a real "4-knights" game, White can interchange the last two moves and still finish off black.

With black to move first, Black puts a lock on the carotid with the obvious 1) ... Qg3+ It doesn't matter if white chooses g1 or h1 for his grave, as 2)... Re1 provides the coup de grace.

LETS PLAY CHESS ! ! !

About Chess.... by LaMoyné Splichal

- Spring is here! That means two major events are on tap for North Dakota chessplayers. Hope everyone is prepared to attend.
- March 28-29 is the weekend of the '87 ND Scholastic championship. (see ad in this issue!) Pass the word to any student or school interested in playing chess.
- The 1987 North Dakota Closed, our state chess championship, is set for April 11-12 weekend, also at the Bismarck Ramada Inn. Check out the notice in the newsletter, showing impressive prizes for you to win. Along with a good attendance, we hope for good competitive chess! Will John Stanfield be declared state champ for the 3rd year in a row? Will a dark horse claim the title? Will a former state champion, like Steve Turmo or Stephan Popel, recapture the top spot? Find out yourself, by playing at the '87 ND Closed!
- Booklets from the 1985 and 1986 North Dakota Closed tmts still can be purchased. If you like a copy of the tournament games, cost is $3. Send request to my address.
- Five chessplayers are competing in the '87 ND Postal Chess Championship. They are Ron Schauer - Jamestown, Michael Sprague - Minot, John Wetsch - Bismarck, LaMoyné Splichal - Dickinson, & Brent Askvig - Minot. They will play a double round robin (8 games each), competing for the state postal title. Prizes are $50 (& champ. trophy if still residing in ND) for first, $35 for second place, and $20 to third place scorer.
- As most NDCA members know, Stephan A. Popel is a member of the North Dakota Chess Hall of Fame. In fact, at present Mr. Popel is the only Hall of Famer (elected in 1983). If you would like a chessplayer in the ND Chess Hall of Fame, here are the details: Any NDCA member may nominate a prospective Hall of Famer by petition, nomination, etc., to the NDCA Governing Board. (The governing board consists of the state officers, & the regional representatives.) Then the nomination must pass approval of the NDCA Governing Board unanimously, before the state NDCA membership votes approval by majority vote at annual meeting, during the North Dakota Closed. - Besides the honor, a memento is given to the recipient, and a lifetime NDCA membership awarded!
- Has anybody ever said you really ought to be a writer? You probably heard that line in a recent commercial, urging people into writing careers. - While I don't profess to be a writer, not even a good one sometimes, it's fun to write chess articles! Since September 1985, I've composed 45 chess columns for the Dickinson Press. Sometimes the news & games are easy to put together, other times a pain when no local or state news can be printed. The bottom line is it's a pleasure writing about chess! Maybe you have a local paper that needs a chess columnist. Also our state newsletter needs you to contribute articles, (games, annotations, stories, notes, news, etc.) so chessplayers can be knowledgeable of the game in their area. We're eager to read your news!
- Best of luck players in the upcoming chess tournaments in the area.

FROM THE SOUTH DAKOTA CHESS BULLETIN

Richard Herr, of Wishek, ND, won the Huron Fall Swiss that was held on October 11 and 12, 1986. Herr scored 4½-½ to outscore a field of eight players. The tie for second, at 3-2, included Ruben Pastian, Jr., Steve Newman, and Richard Kraft.

Other tournament results from the Oct. - Dec. SDCA bulletin were as follows: Curtis Carroll captured the Curious Quads II and III, Gary Wallace won the Götten Dämmerung Open, Steve Norquist took the Proletarian Open, Jeff Barth won the SD Round Robin, and a Austrian exchange student named Karl Magritzer won the Sr. High section of the North-eastern Scholastic Invitational, with Ross Green winning the Jr. High section. The South Dakota Grand Tour title was won by Mark Falk.

On fiendish Chess Computer...

by H. Sprague

We all know that those computers can play a pretty mean game of chess. Some have earned a master's rating... Here is a classic tale of man meeting machine... While it is not my game or my poem... I found it too good to resist!

A word or two of explanation... the Far Excellence Computer program had net and defeated a 1979, a 1843, and a 1995 rated player in 12 moves, 34 moves, and 17 moves respectively. How would you like to have your first three rounds go like that in some tourney? (Of course next round...

THE CHESSE MACHINE (a poem)

James Brent--National Open 1966--Far Excellence

1. Nc3 Nc6 2. Bf3 e5 3. a4 Ne6 4. Bc4 Bb4 ---
(Four knights begin, this chessic dance of death,...)
5. Nd5 Bc5 6. d3 Nc4 7. 0-0 0-0 (Soon the kings, on magic rows, do change address,...) 8. h3 Nxf2 (When Black gives pieces, for the pale King's rook,...) ((aside, this exchange of two pieces for rook and pawn is something that my fidelity also does, so it must be a hereditary tendency with even the finest computer... gives one pause!))
9. Rxf2 Bxf2+ 10. Kxf2 d6 11. B-g5 0-d7 12. N-h4 h6
13. 0-h5 (The ebony queen get squeezed, into shabby nook, Then comes White's simple, king-side attack,...) ((aside, "Of course, Marsha, that is the usual penalty for that exchange!"))... Qxh3 (Here speedy computer, gives up Queen, for sac!) 14. gxf3 hxf3 15. Ng5 (Now White's Queen and knight, as pair of hawks, descend,
And knock off Black's king, at chessboard's end,...)... 1-0 16. 0-h8? (And thus, the electronic computer fiend, was mated at just... sweet sixteen!). 1-0.

Not a great game of chess, or even a great short game of chess, but a good look at the liabilities even a machine must face. A computer will give you a good workout on tactics, especially of the elementary kind.... And look at that nifty poem!

Prairie Pawnstorm I - January 10, 1987

Chessplayer	Pre Rtg	Post Rtg	#1	#2	#3	Total
1 Mike Sailer - Bismarck	1665	1709	W3	W2	W4	3
2 John Leitel - Almont	1804	1858	W6	L1	W5	2
3 Bill Loup - Buffalo SD	1386	1405	L1	D5	W6	1½
4 John Wetsch - Bismarck	1473	1467	D5	D6	L1	1
5 Zane Stearns - Dickinson	1403	1403	D4	D3	L2	1
6 Joe Gagner - Bismarck	1459	1437	L2	D4	L3	½

Awards - 1st, Sailer won $15. 2nd, Leitel $9. 3rd, Loup $6.

TWO VIEWS OF THE SAME GAME

The following game occurred in the 1st round of Prairie Pawnstorm II, on Jan. 11th, in Dickinson, ND...LaByrne and I agreed to submit the game with comments from each of us, representing two different levels of chessplayer, in hopes that the result might be instructive to more readers. (Or amusing, depending on your point of view!)

Joe Gagner	Prairie Pawnstorm II 1-11-87	Round I	LaByrne Splichal
	1) c4	e5	(Another English from Joe.)
	2) Nc3	c6
	3) g3	d5
	4) cXd5	cXd5
(I was surprised by the especially high # of pawn moves.)	5) e4	d4	(I'm a pawn pusher!)
	6) Nd5	Nf6
	7) Bg2	Be6	(Thought of NxXd5, 8) eXd5, later picking up isolated pawn.)
(I thought of it too.)	8) Qb3	b6
(LaByrne is preparing for fianchetto, but so many pawn moves!!!)	9) d3	h6
(Considered O-O-O)	10) Bd2	Nc6
	11) Ne2	Nd7	(At this point, I still had no game plan in mind. So I thought now to try some knight-dancing to maybe tie up the Queen.)
(Time to get the King out of Dodge.) (This is no position to try something stupid like O-O-O)	12) O-O	Nc5	(Hoping the enemy might move carelessly!!!)
(Now LaByrne, dearest, is after Queen or Pawn or more...)	13) Qb5	Bd7
(Oh what webs we weave when the Queen tries to deceive.)	14) Bh3		(An unexpected move that seems to save white's position at the right moment.)
(This kind of forced move usually is miscalculated by me, at high cost, but this time it seems to work.)		Ne6	(If 15) BxXe6 fXe6 and white knight is trapped on d5 with 16) Nb4 Nxb4 17) QXe5 Nc6.)
(In response to LaByrne's thoughts, if 15) BxXe6 fXe6, then 16) Nb4 Nxb4 17) Bxb4 Bxb4 18) Qxb4, and white breaks even...)	15) f4		(White seems to be attacking. Is He ignoring his Queen?)
(An attempt to free e2 and break black center.)		Na5
(White might have been better with 15) ... Nb4.)	16) Qa6	Nc5
(Sharf!! Thank you!!)	17) Bxd7+	Qxd7	(Considered Kxd7, but didn't like King in open.) (A bit hasty, forgot of other options.)
	18) Qb5	Qxb5
(TRIPLE FORK!!!!!!!!!!!!!!)	19) Nc7+	Kd7

Coming attractions include two events. First, Julius and the boys are putting on their annual Ides of March bash, announced elsewhere in this issue (and in Chess Life and Minnesota Chess Journal).

And second, an MSCA event, the Dragon Variations
5/9 Comstock Union, Moorhead State University 4SS
TL 30/1, 20/1 and then Sudden Death REG 9-9:30 a.m.
Rds 10-1-4-7 EF $8 $3 per entries. MSCA membership req.
EXQ, NC, W, and because one player is sensitive to smoke, NS.

Also a concurrent 4-rd. Novice tourney. No memberships required. Prizes will be USCF, MSCA & NDCA memberships as entries permit. EF $3.

As of 2/25 I don't know if the International Tornado and International Team Match will be held in the F-M area this June, but if it is, I have recommended that Pres. Ron be asked to appoint a North Dakota team captain to recruit a team and confer with Canadian captain Glenn Johnstone and the Minnesota captain.

I leave you with a Trivial Question: How many non-North Dakotans played in the 1986 ND Scholastic Tournament last April?

ANSWER TO TRIVIA QUESTION: At least one.

For those of you who have already recieved the recent issue of Chess Life, you will notice a report of special interest to at least some North Dakotans. IGM Simen Agdestein tied for top honors with Dnirty Qurevich at a tournament in Israel. You may recall that IGM Agdestein was the star attraction at a special exhibition given last fall in Fargo-Moorhead.

Young Sailer Tops ND Grand Prix

Mike Sailer of Bismarck, age 16, leads the field in the ND Grand Prix contest. The standings below note Mike has a slim lead over 1985 Grand Prix champion Rick Case. With no future state tourneys scheduled (until '87 ND Closed), the point totals look final.

The Grand Prix contest aims to give players who are active in North Dakota chances for more prizes, etc. It also shows who loves to play chess in the state, attending many events, therefore NDCA rewards them for their efforts:

Seventy-one players competed in the fourteen events below. Some played in one event, others managed to attend almost all advertised. Mike Sailer attended all he could (missed Bison for lack of ride...), and Rick Case only omitted a Pawn War and Prairie Pawnstorms from his tourney circuit!

This year's Grand Prix race was very close, 1½ pts. separated the top two players. After some double-checking we find other contenders (Triggs, Gagner, Berger, & Stanfield) fighting for the top spot.

How does a player get ND Grand Prix points? It's easy! Here's the formula, set by Dave Rosley in 1985:

- 1) to receive GP pts, you must be a current NDCA member.
- 2) the USCF rated tournament must advertise in the NDCA Newsletter.
- 3) the tournament must be held within borders of North Dakota.
- 4) the tournament must be a regular swiss style tournament.
- 5) the GP pt. formula is as follows: number of players + number of rounds played + number of points received in the tournament.

Prizes for the top three players in grand prix will be discussed at the annual NDCA meeting, April 11th. - LaMoyne Splichal, Acting Dir., 1986 ND Grand Prix Contest.

FROM OUTSIDE NORTH DAKOTA

A number of years ago as I was directing the Moorhead International Tornado, a player then living in Fargo complained that because I had put the new and unrated players in a clump between the B and C players on the wall chart, I had loused up the pairings, pairing him with stronger than ordinary players while Unrateds played tail-enders for the first two rounds. Even after I showed him the tournament announcement in which the class prizes were designated as A, B-U, C, & D-E, he was unconvinced.

Ordinarily, of course, unrated players go at the bottom of the list, or a fifth of the way from the bottom, but NSCA's anticipation was that unrated newcomers from Canada were not necessarily weak, and however justified Mr. Fjeldseth's exhortation, NSCA did have a point. New players are a question mark, and every director knows it.

An excellent example of that unknown strength shows up in the accompanying crosstable of the unheralded Red River Valley Winter Festival of 2/7/87* (*NCCA News did not announce it, and a page of the names and addresses of several F & R was supposed to notify never got the announcement, presumably because of a secretarial error.) Asnawi Ramli, an unrated NDSU student, tied the long-overdue 1st place and 2nd place.

There were some clues denoting Ramli's strength, to be sure. Last April Alan Sauter mentioned that the ACU-I regional tournament held at Mankato State and directed by Sauter was won by the student from NDSU, but he could not remember his name. This year Ramli again won the tournament to become the Bison representative at Iowa State on 2/15. Still he had no USCF rating.* (*When I directed the ACU-I tourney at Moorhead State around 1975, it was rated, and when Mankato State hosted it about five years ago it was rated. I'm unsure when ACU-I quit rating it.)

In round 1, Ramli upset Chas Scott, and Karl Gunderson, competing in his first tournament since 1978, upset Gerald Fauske.

Since ALL of the first round winners save Wipf had had white, we had some funny-looking second round pairings (Hersrud-Meyer for instance. I paired Ramli down to play Fauske, and gave a bye to Hanson rather than Ladwig).

Ramli beat fellow Bison Fauske, apparently effortlessly. Wipf survived after a scare when Gunderson mishandled his attack.

In the last round the revolt of the underdogs continued with Wipf beating Meyer, Ramli humbling Starr, Gunderson tipping Heuer, and Hanson upending Scott. The unrated Aaker, letting a win get away from him, drew Fauske. Alby was the only higher-rated player to win in the last round! Were those performances just flukes? We'll see.

After round one F-M Chess voted to award first place $20, top 3-3 $15, and top under-1400/Unrated $15. Now Ramli and Wipf tie for first. How much should each get? And should the players with two points get anything? If so, how much?

(I thought at this point 20) Nxb5 Nxd3 that I had the game won, but the euphoria of trading the queens even had perhaps added my brain.)
(I had expected Nxb2. Nxe5 screwed up my intended Rxf7) (Nxd4 looks good until b5 22) Bxa5 d3 pins the donkey's tail to the king!! I was surprised that LaMoyné did not take back the bishop.)
(Still hoping the knight 23) Rad1 will move permitting capture of f-pawn with +.)

(Down a pawn, and more to fall, I offered a draw. In actuality, the game looks lost.)

perhaps have tried a4+.) 33) Rd6+ Kb6
34) Rd7 Kb5
(Rxg7 looked to dangerous 35) Rxa7 Rxa2 for getting my rooks mispositioned.) 36) Rb7+ Rg8

(Setting up for perpetual 37) Rcb1 unless something else developed.)

38) Rlb6+ Ka5
(At this point, I could think 39) Rb5+ of nothing else to do except to permit my position to crumble due to LaMoyné's extra pawn. I had to force the draw or accept an endgame I only "knew how to lose".)

(Thinking I had a win. Maybe to optimistic.)

(Nxb2 has merit. Better was taking center pawn???)

(Hoping with pawn push, a better attack.)

(The rook is intended to reach the 2nd rank and maybe double rooks.)

(Here I missed basic endgame.
opted for Kc6 instead of Kc7, for better ending.)

(Joe offered a draw. I decided to play for experience as his Kh3 did not look playable.)
(I proceeded, stumbling thru the ending.)

(Kb4 seemed to dangerous.)

(Expected Rxg7)

(Didn't like Ka4, looked like a trap.)

(Brood, else Rb1/b6 gives mate.)

(Agreed to draw realizing I could only get 1/2 point with Joe having perpetual check at his disposal.)

Sometimes in a certain position one hears the phrase, "the attack plays itself..." ...I have never really seen such a thing. When you are attacking you have to play with all vigor... 'cause the alternative is too gruesome to think about! Actually more games are probably lost by the failure to attack at a crucial point than ever by an overeager attack....

The following is probably my third favorite postal effort...and illustrates the point..._____

White: Michael Galovridis (Austin, Texas!)

1. e4 d5!? 2. exd5 NE6 3. Nb5+ Bd7 4. Bc4 Nd1 exd5 15. c4? (the only logical followup to 14's f4 was 15. f5! and I never worked out all the details but I believe that the defense would have been hard-pressed... i.e. 15. f5! exf5 16. Nxf5 0-0 17. Nxe7 ±)...Nb4!

16. Rd1 0-0 (=) 17. Be3 a5 18. d5!? a4!? 19. d6! (if 19. dxe6? Bd3! -+)...Bf6 20. a3 axb3 21. axb4 Rxa1

31. f5 Rd8 32. Rg2 a4 33. Qf2 Bd1 (black is slowly and carefully strangling White, moves like 33....Nb5?! do not enter into consideration!) 34. h3 Bf3+ 35. Kh2
Kh7 36. Kd1 h5!? 37. f5?! (Black, as shown by his 36th, was still looking for 'the last thread to cut' as White is still much alive...but this is 'the last straw'... 37. gxf5 had to be tried and it would be up to Black to...) ..d5
38. d2 Bxe3+ 39. Rxe3 Nd1+ 40. Rf2 Rxf5
41. Rg3 Bx2! 42. resigns 0-1.

Actually my opponent, who is about 2033 QTB started with a postal rating of 1368... and ended our series with one of 1786 (24 postal games!)...and won on the Black side of an English 1 vs. me. I "won" 92 pts. for this effort!

NDA Annual Meeting - April 19, 1986

North Dakota Chess Association

President Terry Ness called the 1986 NDA annual meeting to order. The '85 minutes (see May 1985 Newsletter) were approved, & seconded.

Sec.-Treas. LaMoyné Splichal reported our treasury is healthy, we are doing fine. (After Closed, NDA had $918.71 in our funds.) NDA has no outstanding debts, we just need more members.

Terry Ness reported the '86 ND Scholastic tournament was a great success, with 112 students competing in the event! The membership congratulated his organizing efforts, along with directors Brent Askvig, Stacy Askvig, LaMoyné Splichal, & Joe Gagner. Ron Schauer also gave a shout Saturday evening. - It was noted that tournament chess gives a student the best way to improve their game, and enjoy chess.

NDA voted to give Mr. Dick Rask, a 5th grade teacher at Bismarck Gimstrud Elementary, a certificate of appreciation. This is for his work with students, teaching them chess, etc., who provided enthusiasm to his many students.

Special thanks to the Bismarck Optimist Club, for their support at the ND Scholastic again!

We discussed a goal of sending a future state high school player champ to a national chess tournament. Scholastic would like to send the top player, with expenses to represent the state.

We discussed company sponsorship of chess events. In North Dakota, funds are hard to get from a company, but it is possible...

The ND Grand Prix winners were noted for 1985 contest:
1st - Rick Case won a Master Quartz chess clock, 2nd - Clifford Berger won a B&B Special chess clock, 3rd - Ron Schauer won analysis chess set!

Postal Report: R.L. Laux-Bachand of Minot won the 1985 ND Postal Chess Championship, noted TD Brent Askvig. There are only four players in the 1986 event battling for the title.

Terry Ness now stepped aside, as Pres.-Elect Dave Rosley became NDA President. We thanked Ness for his efforts in office.

Elections: President Dave Rosley opened up nomination of officers. LaMoyné Splichal was nominated & unopposed, re-elected to be Secretary-Treasurer. - Ron Schauer and Rick Case were both nominated for the Pres.-Elect office. After the membership vote, Ron Schauer was elected to the office. Congratulations were given.

Pres. Rosley appointed the following people as regional representatives: Northwest - Brent Askvig, Clifford Berger - Southwest, Orhan Erdem - Northeast, and Southeast - Al Adams.

We noted that the Eastern ND players had a disappointing turnout at this year's championship. We discussed ways & incentives for us to get players to the ND Closed.

NDA membership voted & approved to add $200 into the '87 ND Closed prize fund. This should attract more players to the tournament.

The NDA Newsletter was discussed on ways of improving issues. Joe Gagner volunteered to edit newsletter, w/LaMoyné Splichal assisting. 1986 ND Grand Prix prizes (about $100), will be distributed to top 3.

NDA membership agreed to giving free entries to '87 ND Scholastic individual winners, so they can play in the '87 ND Closed easier.

The U.S. Chess Trust, aimed at scholastic was noted by Ed Lutgen. For information on helping your school program, write to USCF.

The ND Team tournament dates will be set by Jerry Triggs, aided by Joe Gagner. Event will be in late May or in June.

A motion was made to adjourn, and seconded. Meeting closed.

Respectfully Submitted, LaMoyné Splichal, Sec.

I must admire Jerry Triggs recent stand on smoking in chess tournaments. When Col. Abe Thompson was active in chess here almost all our tourneys were NS---"non-smoking"... it is too bad that we have drifted away from that policy... the Colonel brought the dedicated zeal of a reformed smoker who had quit!

I, personally, could care less how badly you ravage your lungs with tobacco... you're the one who will have to use them irregardless. But why should I have to share the experience when I am trying to play chess? This shared smoke is rather accented by the modern building style... ceilings are low, and good ventilation is almost non-existent. No, I will not repeat all of the gristly warnings smokers have gotten so used to ignoring... but, if you will, regard chess as an athletic event.

"Whatever you do, do your doggonest!"...No man that ever entered a race to win deliberately handicaps himself... drags along useless weight or lowers his endurance. Yet chess, because it seems to be mostly a mental exercise, does not get the same consideration. You notice I said, "seems"...it has been proven that to play a serious game of chess is roughly equivalent to playing a couple of games of touch football with men that are 'semi-serious'.

Now your brain will take a steady one-third of your blood supply...irregardless of what you are doing...but it does not have any control over the amount of oxygen in that blood. Nicotine not only cuts down on the amt of oxygen but also increases the amount of jump in your nerves. I have a very good illustration of that...

My friend Ed Lutgen is a strong chessplayer...and has a strong physical constitution...and he is a heavy smoker. During this one tournament, having won his first two rounds he sat down to play J. Triggs in the third... I helped him analyse the game afterwards. In a complicated, unbalanced position...Ed blundered. "What happened here?", I asked, "Oh, I got up and went out to have a smoke and..." -And completely lost the thread of the game. You could actually see his hand tremble from the effects of the poison.(and believe me Nicotine is a strong poison!).

So... you are going to sit down and play chess against Jerry Triggs, or Rick Case, or...even me...and you are going to smoke(or worse, have the desire to ... and, perhaps, not being able to...)...well, lots of luck.

Perhaps Case will join you...but I know those other characters won't be!

THE NDCA:

~~Below chess players:~~ I have recently played in the N.D. Bison. There were only 14 in the open section. A poor turn out to be sure. But, it seems typical of chess in N.D. today. Many tournaments with few players. I must once again state that the N.D. Closed will be coming up April 11th and 12th with the state meeting at 2:30 on Sat. I EXPECT MANY MANY OF YOU THERE FOR THE MEETING AND THE TOURNAMENT. It has been discussed the MR. RIFEL will try and make this closed. If for no other reason than to see this brilliant chess mind play. BE THERE. The only excuse is terminal existence.

The North Dakota Scholastic is also coming up March 28th and 29th. PLEASE let your local schools know and do what ever is needed to get a team or player to the tournament. Without the youth chess in N.D. will always be in trouble. Us old guys ain't gonna last forever. Although it's rumored that some of us are trying.

Many thanks must go out in the past chess year. One to Joe Gagner for continuing the Pawn Wars series. To LaMoyné Splichal our great and forever Secretary Treasure. To the FM chess council for holding the Bison and the N.D. Open. To all the players that play and give of their time and talents.

Your President.

RONALD R. SCHAUER

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

It has been a pretty nice winter until the past week. That being the case, there isn't too much to gripe about, even if we did get 16 inches of snow in the past 6 days. Especially seeing as how the temperatures have continued to remain above zero. All-in-all, with spring just around the corner, we should all be starting to feel the fever, particularly for some good Chess. Last week, I talked to Mike Sailer about a possible match, but got an error on my taxes that I forgot to call back to set a weekend. Also, I discovered at the same time, that Mike and his dad are planning to join Jerry Triggs in representing North Dakota in the National Open in Las Vegas, in March. Best of luck to all three in showing the rest of the country just exactly "where the hell North Dakota is!"

A bit of old business is to correct an error in the last newsletter. In Jerry Triggs's Chess Challenge, I inadvertently added the word, automatically, to the end of Jerry's notice. It didn't change the meaning of what was said, but apparently there are some who took it to mean that the odds offered would count for rating purposes or some such. Whatever the case, my apologies to Jerry for changing the wording of his challenge. Elsewhere in this issue, you will find the challenge reprinted correctly.

I have tried not to spend too much space on repetitive thank you's, but in the process, perhaps I haven't said those words enough. I guess that is why I want to take the time here to thank Mike Sprague, Somnor Sorenson, Cliff Berger, Mike Sailer, Ron Schauer, and all who have helped by contributing their time and efforts to make available information for NDCA NEWS. It is especially necessary to thank the greatest contributor of all, LaMoyné Splichal. He sends in most of what goes into each issue, and his help with typing is priceless. It might be mentioned here that anybody is welcome to contribute, but it would be appreciated by LaMoyné and myself greatly if the articles were typed before we get them. Typing can be as much as 90% of the task of putting the Newsletter together. Every little bit that is done before it gets here means the issue gets out that much faster. The only requirements that are necessary are that the typing be done in standard letter format, with 10 to 15 spaces on the left margin, and the same on the right margin. Reduction xeroxing and editing are then made easy in terms of organizing the material in a presentable manner.

That is all for now, Hope This finds all in good spirits. And I hope all will help to make upcoming tournaments a rousing success. GET THE FEVER!!!!

CHESS CHALLENGE

If anyone is interested in a Chess match, please send me an outline of your match conditions. Choose your time controls, number of rounds, etc. The game site will be the Central Dakota Chess Club room in the Memorial Bldg. at 215 N. 6th Str., Bismarck, ND. I can play every Saturday and some weeknights. There will be no smoking at any time in the club room. Bring your USCF ID card and 10.00 minimum entry fee. Players under 1800 can request odds. (You score X number of pts. before I score Y.)
